
where can I find GOOD world championship candidate match coverage?

Posted by Will8 - 2007/06/07 17:48

hi guys! your site ranks high on google search for FREE live coverage of the last world championship, do you have recommendations for the current candidate matches, too?

ps: already found the free coverage by chess.fm but that was only for the first couple o fdays :(

=====

Re:where can I find GOOD world championship candidate match coverage?

Posted by Sciurus - 2007/06/08 09:35

Take a look at the organizer's website: globalchess.eu, particularly this one: games. You can watch the games there and download them in pgn format and even more interesting also with pretty nice annotations in pdf format.

However, if you are looking for free audio commentary - I don't know either except for chess.fm which requires membership at the Internet Chess Club.

Let me know if you find more links, particularly to good commentary!

=====